Kulikov (fnu) is not a Deputy Minister of the Fishing Industry, but he is the chief of the Fishery Department in the Supply Ministry and is at present living in Moscow.<sup>1</sup>

- 1.. Comment: The above correction is passed on for what it may be worth. The word "Supply" here should probably read "Procurement." In March 1953 several ministries were combined to form the Ministry of Agriculture and Procurement. In the fall of 1953 this ministry was separated into three ministries: State Farms, Agriculture, and Agricultural Procurement. On the other hand, the Ministry of Fish Industry was combined with several others in March 1953 to form the Ministry of Light and Food Industry, which ministry was separated in September 1953 into four ministries, one of which is the Ministry of Fish Industry.
